

Gerard Amarenco, M.D.

Gerard Amarenco, M.D., Neurologist

Service de Neuro-Urologie et d'Explorations Périnéales

Hôpital Tenon

4, Rue de la Chine

75020 PARIS

France

Phone: 01 56 01 76 12

E-mail: gerard.amarenco@tnn.aphp.fr

In 1987 Professor Gerard Amarenco was the first to publish on Alcock's canal syndrome due to compression of the pudendal nerve associated with cycling.

A new canal syndrome: compression of the pudendal nerve in Alcock's canal or perineal paralysis of cyclists.

Amarenco G, Lanoe Y, Perrigot M, Goudal H.

Presse Med. 1987 Mar 7;16(8):399.

Dr. Amarenco has since authored and co-authored numerous publications on pudendal neuralgia and pudendal nerve entrapment.

He has been a pioneer in developing diagnostic tests and treatments for patients with pudendal neuralgia.